REPORT.

WITH a new volume, the Somerset Record Society has also a new Secretary, the third since its foundation in 1887. On looking over the contents of the official box, the labours of the Rev. J. A. Bennett in starting the Society become very apparent, and the work of Prebendary Holmes is evident to all who use the volumes, particularly that magnum opus, the Register of Bishop Ralph de Salopia. While their successor anticipates a difficulty in keeping up to the standard already set, he has an additional task imposed upon him, no less than that of keeping the Society from disappearing altogether. This does not arise from scarcity of records, or lack of competent editors, but simply and solely from lack of income. It must be remembered that before the record can be handed over to the editor, it has as a rule to be rendered legible by a professional transcriber, and that this process is lengthy and expensive.

Now that the danger is placed fairly before the County, the new Secretary trusts that sufficient funds will be forthcoming to prevent him from having to perform the unpleasant task of executor to the Society.

It does, however, appear that the account (prepared from figures furnished by the Hon. Treasurer, R. Isgar, Esq., of Wells, and the late Hon. Secretary), shows a balance in hand. But when the amount (£105) of subscriptions paid in advance has been subtracted, there remains a deficit of £46. This is the net deficit on the production of the last three volumes, which absorbed the balance in hand, and the deposit of £100 raised by donations at the foundation of the Society. The prompt payment of the fifteen subscriptions still in arrear for 1897 (verb. sap.) would reduce the deficit to £30, which will have to be met by a temporary reduction in the size of the volumes.

Preface.

I MUCH regret the delay in the issue of this volume. It has been produced under pressure caused by many engagements and unforeseen often interruptions. From these causes there has been in some sheets a rather hasty revision—as I discovered when making the index—and consequently a few errors of spelling or misreading remain uncorrected. Extremely vexing this always, and only somewhat rectified by an errata slip.

E. G

Introduction.

AS these volumes accumulate the interest of the subject will increase, thus it will be better presently with fuller material to give a fuller criticism. A very few words of introduction will therefore here suffice. The documents now noticed, for the most part it will be observed are settlements or re-settlements of the lands, the dower or third part, of the ladies being very much in view. For the genealogist the family name of many ladies lost by marriage may be traced in these proceedings. Repetition of legal verbiage has been as far as possible avoided. Plea of covenant or previous agreement by deed, was the summons or formula always used, this final concord being then registered. Land was still divided into often very small holdings, thus giving the immediate landlord various feudal rights to the detriment or loss of the superior. It came thus to be ordered that there should be no gift without reserving sufficient to answer the demands of the chief fee; and in 18 Ed. I it was ordered that all transfers should be held, not of the intermediate owner transferring, but directly of the "chief lords of the fee by the services due." This formula must be understood as repeated in every document after the description of every holding. A point to be noted is the almost disappearance of the frequent rendering of a sore sparrowhawk, a payment of silver being now substituted. Pepper, scarce and valuable, is often a rent, but a rose was the favourite, probably as being the least costly and most easily procured and yet a sufficient acknowledgment. Woodcocks, and gilt spurs, gloves, and wax, also appear. The distinction Miles, translated Knight, occurs three times only; but in the reign of Edward III it will be noted that the distinction of Chivaler becomes more general. The various changes in the landowners need no remark as they can be easily traced through the index.

SOMERSET

PEDES FINIUM.

I Edward II. (1307-8).

1. This is the final concord made in the Court of the lord the King at Westminster in the octave of St. John Baptist in the first year of the reign of King Edward, the son of King Edward, before Ralph de Hengham, William de Bereford, William Howard, Lambert de Trikingham, and Henry de Stanton, justices, and others, the faithful of the lord the King then there present; between John de Reyny, junior, and Dionisia his wife, querents; and Joan de Reyny, deforciant, by David de Servynton in her place by letter of the lord the King to gain or lose, for a messuage, a carucate of land, forty acres of meadow, and thirty-seven shillings and eightpence rent, and a rent of a pound of pepper, with appurtenances in Havecrich. When plea of covenant was summoned between them in the same court, that is to say, that the aforesaid Joan acknowledged the aforesaid tenements to be the right of the said John, as those which the said John and Dionisia had by the gift of the aforesaid Joan, and for this acknowledgment, fine, and concord, the same John and Dionisia granted to the aforesaid Joan the aforesaid tenements, with appurtenances, and rendered the same to her in the court, to have and to hold to the same Joan of the aforesaid John and Dionisia and the heirs of the said John all the life of the said

Joan ; rendering therefor per annum a rose at the feast of the nativity of St. John Baptist for all services, customs, and exactions to the aforesaid John and Dionisia and the heirs of the same John appertaining and doing therefor to the chief lord of that fee for the aforesaid John and Dionisia and the heirs of the said John all other services which to those tenements appertain, and after the decease of the said Joan, the aforesaid tenement with appurtenances shall wholly revert to the aforesaid John and Dionisia and the heirs of the said John, to hold of the chief lords of the fee by the services which to those tenements appertain in perpetuity.

2. At Westminster in the morrow of St. John Baptist ; between John de Reyny, junior, querent ; and John de Reyny deforciant ; for two messuages, two carucates of land, thirty-three acres of meadow, thirty acres of wood, and four librates and thirteen shillings and a penny rent, and two pounds of cummin and a pound of pepper in Sirodeston and La Rode. John acknowledged the right of John as by his gift. For this John granted him the same to hold for his life, rendering therefor a rose at the nativity of St. John Baptist for all services, and doing to the chief lord of the fee all other services belonging. After the decease of John the said tenement shall wholly remain to John, the son of John, to hold of the said John de Reyny and his heirs for his life : and after the decease of John the son of John, the said tenement shall wholly revert to John de Reyny to hold of the chief lord by the services due.

(Endorsed.) John de Bichebury put in his claim.

3. At Westminster in the morrow of the Ascension ; between Robert son of Stephen Whateman and Joan his wife, querents ; and William de Burne, deforciant ; for a messuage and a fering of land in Netherlangeford. Robert acknowledged the right William. For this William granted the same to Robert and Joan, to hold to them and the heirs of Robert of the chief lord of the fee by the services due.

4. At Westminster in the third year of King Edward I in the morrow of St. John Baptist, and afterwards at Westminster in three weeks of Eaſter, 1 Edward II ; between John Gambun ; and Reginald de Frome, deforciant ; for a meſſuage (illegible) acres of land, four acres of meadow, and twelve pence rent in Frome. Plea of covenant was ſummoned. John acknowledged the right of Reginald. For this Reginald conceded the ſame to John and Margery his wife, to hold of the chief lord by the ſervices due. After the deceaſe of John and Margery the ſaid tenement ſhall revert wholly to Walter, ſon of John, and the heirs of his body, to hold of the chief lord. And if it happen that Walter die without heirs then the ſaid tenement ſhall remain wholly to Nicholas, his brother, and his heirs ; and if it happen that Nicholas die without heirs, then the ſaid tenement ſhall remain wholly to Richard, his brother ; and if Richard ſhall die without heirs, then the whole ſhall remain to Robert, brother of Richard ; and if Robert die without heirs, then the ſame ſhall remain to the right heirs of the ſame Robert to hold of the chief lord by the ſervices due.

5. At Weſtminſter in the morrow of the Aſcenſion ; between John de Nuriden, querent ; and Agnes de Nuriden, deforciant ; for a meſſuage and a carucate of land, five acres of meadow, and eight acres paſture in Hundeton, Sock, and Thorn Coffin. Agnes acknowledged the right of John to hold the ſame and his heirs of the chief lord ; and beſides Agnes warranted the ſame. For this John gave Agnes forty pounds ſterling.

6. At Weſtminſter in the quinzaine of Eaſter ; between William Treuet, junior, querent ; and William, ſon of Thomas Treuet, deforciant ; for three meſſuages, five tofts, a hundred and thirty acres of land, thirty-five acres meadow, and three ſhillings rent in Puryton and Donnende. William, ſon of Thomas, acknowledged the right of William, junior, to hold the ſaid tenement of William, ſon of Thomas, rendering therefor a roſe at the feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt for all ſervices. If William, junior, ſhall die without heirs, then the whole ſhall remain to John, his brother ; and if John die without heirs, then the ſame ſhall remain to Nicholas, his brother ; and if Nicholas die without heirs, the ſame ſhall revert to the ſaid William, ſon of Thomas, and his heirs. For this warrant, fine, and concord, William gave William, son of Thomas, a hundred marks of silver.

(Endorsed.) Philip de Columbariis and William, son of William Treuet, junior, put in their claim.

7. At Westminster in the quinzaine of St. Hillary ; between John, Dean and Chapter of the Church of St. Andrew at Wells, querent ; and Walter, Bishop of Bath and Wells, deforciant ; for two acres of land in Burnham and the advowson of the church of the same. The Bishop acknowledged the said land and advowson to be the right of the Dean and Chapter, and quit claimed all rights for himself or successors. For this the Dean and Chapter gave the Bishop one hundred pounds sterling. This concord was made by precept of the lord the King.

2 Edward III. (1308-9).

8. At Westminster in the quinzaine of St. Martin ; between William le Fraunkeleyn, querent ; and Richard de la Roche and Alice his wife, deforciants ; for a messuage and two carucates of land in vuere (over or upper ?) Feskeford. Richard acknowledged the said tenements to be the right of William ; and for this William granted the same to Richard and Alice to have and to hold the same of the chief lord for their lives, and after their deaths the same wholly to remain to Simon, son of Richard, and his heirs ; and if it happen that Simon die without heirs, then the said tenement shall wholly remain to the right heirs of Richard to hold of the chief lord by the services due.

Henry acknowledged the right of William and rendered the same in court ; and warranted the same against all men. For this William gave Henry one hundred marks of silver.

10. At Westminster in the morrow of St. Martin ; between John de Clyvedon, querent ; and Nicholas Whyteng and Alianor his wife, deforciants ; for a messuage and a carucate of land in Milton juxta Bruiton. Nicholas and Alianor acknowledged the right of John and his heirs and warranted. For this John gave them twenty pounds sterling.

11. At Westminster in the quinzaine of St. Michael ; between John, son of Thomas de la Mare, querent ; and Robert de Uppeheye and Cecilia, his wife, deforciants ; for a messuage, a carucate of land, seven acres of meadow, fourteen shillings and eight pence rent in Durcote juxta Camelerton. The deforciants acknowledged the right of John and surrendered to him. For this John agreed for himself and his heirs, to render every year to Robert and Cecilia, for all the life of Cecilia, fifty-six shillings and eight pence by four quarter terms, viz., the feast of St. Andrew, the feast of the Annunciation, the feast of the Nativity of St. John Baptist, and the feast of St. Michael. If it happen that John or his heirs at any term make default in their payment of the said money, Robert and Cecilia, for the life of Cecilia, may distrain on the goods and chattels in the said tenements until full payment has been made. After the decease of Cecilia, John and his heirs shall be quit of the said annual payment.

12. At Westminster in the octave of St. Michael ; between Thomas de Gurney, querent ; and Thomas de St. Vigore, deforciant ; for the manor of Stratton Seynt Vigor.
